

Delusions of Grandeur - Covers Band

"The Delusions" is a five-piece band playing classic rock and blues music from the 60s to the '00s. The band members (details below) have a depth of experience of live playing and recording in a range of musical styles from rock 'n' roll and jazz to country and blues. As well as the excellence of their music, they are also well known for engaging audiences with an infectious energy. Delusions or Grandeur is guaranteed to provide a great night's entertainment for any event.

David Steele - guitar, vocals

David has recorded several albums of his own material, solo and with The David Steele Band. His latest release, Underneath The Ice (Force Majeure, 2002) has had significant international airplay and is selling strongly. David also has years of experience of live performance with his own band and with local bands, notably The Big Bucks Blues Band. As well as distinctive lead vocals on rock, blues and ballads, he provides high-energy lead and acoustic guitar - and a powerful stage presence.

Keith Jones - guitar, vocals

Keith has many years of live performance under his belt, locally and in Cambridge and the Midlands, notably with well-known rock band Stonewood, whom he fronted for several years, and local jazz groups Fat Dog and jQue?.. He plays a versatile range of musical styles - jazz, rock, funk, soul, blues and country. Keith provides powerful rhythm guitar, lead vocals and backing harmonies.

Tom Fletcher - piano, keyboard, vocals

Tom is a highly talented piano and keyboard player and a lead vocalist with a style that sounds more like Elton John than Elton John! He is currently studying at Paul McCartney's Liverpool Institute for the Performing Arts but also finds time to perform with a number of bands around the country.

Dayle Heisby - bass, vocals

Dayle brings over 25 years experience of playing bass in jazz, rock, funk, RnB, pop and experimental bands and as a session player. He has regularly played at Ronnie Scott's and The Rock Garden in London, recorded a John Peel session for the BBC with the wonderfully named Christians In Search Of Filth, and had a single release with Moontwist He also plays with local jazz groups Fat Dog and Que?

Fred Perry - drums

Fred has been a mainstay of the local music scene for many years. He has been behind the creation of many bands playing rock, pop, soul and blues, notably The Steve Gay Band and the 3Rs Soul Band and has also been part of the team organising the annual Brill Music Festival (with David and Keith) since its first year. He plays drums with The Delusions, but has also been known to pick up a bass when pushed!
